Decoding Language Comprehension Reading w/ Meaning

A person wearing a light-colored shirt with green polka dots is holding a rectangular chalkboard with a light wood frame. The chalkboard has the words 'Back to Basics' written in white chalk at the top, underlined, and the word 'Decoding' written in white chalk below it. The background is a solid bright green color.

WHAT IS DECODING?

“Decoding is the ability to apply knowledge of letter-sound relationships, including knowledge of letter patterns, to correctly pronounce written words. Understanding these relationships gives children the ability to recognize familiar words quickly and to figure out words they haven’t seen before.”

Dr. Louisa Moats

We see a printed word

Our brain uses letter sound relationships PLUS our knowledge of phonemes to segment and blend spoken sounds.

With multiple exposures and practice, our brains map the letter sequence to long term memory. It becomes a sight word!

The "ai" pattern in "said" is irregular. Draw children's attention to the parts of the word that is regular.

IMPORTANCE OF DECODING IN EARLY READERS:

- In the U.S. 20% of people have an impairment in reading. That's one in five people.
- In Bermuda according to the Bermuda Digest of Statistics Report 2023 there are approx. 8,470 students from primary to high school in private and public education.
- That could possibly mean there are 1,694 students in Bermuda that have an impairment in reading.

WHAT DOES A CHILD STRUGGLING WITH DECODING LOOK LIKE?

- Parent's Perspective

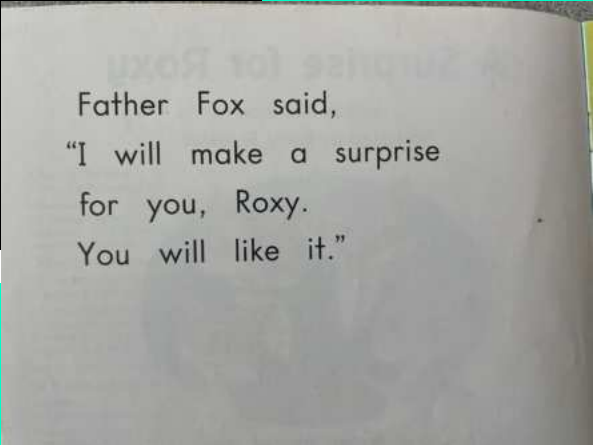

- "I end up reading the text to them."

- Teacher's Perspective

- "I've taught all the sounds but when she reads she's unable to match the phoneme to the grapheme."

- Child's Perspective

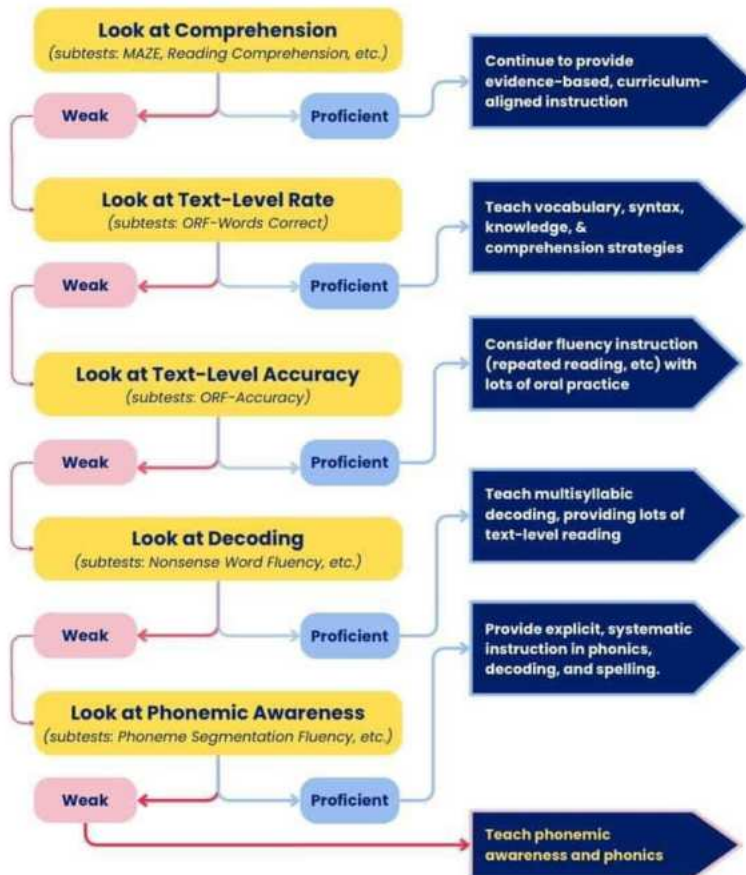

- "I don't know how to sound out the words."
- "It takes so much energy and I can't figure out what it means."

TEACHER PERSPECTIVE CONTINUED: WHAT DOES A CHILD STRUGGLING WITH DECODING LOOK LIKE IN THE CLASSROOM?

- The child has difficulty matching sounds and letters, which can affect reading and spelling.
- The child decodes in a very labored manner.
- The child has trouble reading and spelling phonetically.
- The child has a high degree of difficulty with phonics patterns and activities.
- The child guesses at words based on the first letter or two.
- Even though I taught several short vowel sounds (or other letter sounds or patterns), the corresponding letters are not showing up in his writing samples.
- Even though I taught certain letter patterns, she isn't able to recognize them when reading words.

Alphabet Skills and Letter Sounds

PART A Letter names—uppercase

DIRECTIONS: Say to the student: Can you tell me the names of these letters? If the student cannot name three or more consecutive letters, say: Look at all of the letters and tell me which ones you do know. If the letter name given is correct, do not mark the Record Form. If it is incorrect, write the letter name the student gives above each letter. If no letter name is given, circle the letter.

D	A	N	S	X	Z	G	L	H
T	Y	E	C	O	M	R	P	W
K	U	G	B	F	Q	V	I

19/26 song alphabet

PART B Letter names—lowercase

DIRECTIONS: Say to the student: Can you tell me the names of these letters? If the student cannot name three or more consecutive letters, say: Look at all of the letters and tell me which ones you do know. If the letter name given is correct, do not mark the Record Form. If it is incorrect, write the letter name the student gives above each letter. If no letter name is given, circle the letter.

d	a	n	s	x	z	g	j	h
t	y	e	c	o	m	r	p	w
k	u	g	b	f	q	v	i

20/26 song alphabet

PART C Consonant sounds

DIRECTIONS: Say to the student: Look at these letters. Can you tell me the sound each letter makes? Be sure to ask the student if he or she knows of another sound for the letters g and c. If the sound given is correct, do not mark the Record Form. If it is incorrect, write the sound the student gives above each letter. If no sound is given, circle the letter. If the student cannot say the sound for three or more consecutive letters, say: Look at all of the letters and tell me which sounds you do know.

d	l	n	s	x	z	j

14/21

PART D Vowel sounds

DIRECTIONS: Ask the student: Can you tell me the sounds of each letter? If the student names the letter, count the long vowel sound. Then ask: Can you tell me another sound for the letter? The student should name the short vowel sound.

e i ✓ s	i ✓ s	a ✓ s	o ✓ s	u io ✓

l = long sound s = short sound

On the first line, write the letter i if the student says the correct long vowel sound. On the second line, write the letter s if the student says the correct short vowel sound. If the vowel sound given is incorrect, write the sound the student gives above the corresponding vowel letter.

0/5 Long vowel sounds (count the number of i's above)

3/5 Short vowel sounds (count the number of s's above)

Reading and Decoding Skills

DIRECTIONS: For Parts E through K, students must read both real and pseudowords (i.e., made-up words). For real words, tell the student: I want you to read each line of words aloud. If the student cannot read two or more of real words in each line, do not administer the line of pseudowords. Go to the next part of the assessment. Before asking the student to read the line of pseudowords, say: Now I want you to read some made-up words. Do not try to make them sound like real words. When administering Parts F through K as a screening or diagnostic measure, continue testing even if a student does not perform well on the previous part of the test.

PART E Short vowels in CVC words

Teacher: Lets take a look at this word to see how we can break it apart into recognizable or manageable chunks. This will help us read the whole word.

Decoding Big Words

1. Look for the word parts (prefixes) at the beginning of the word.
2. Look for the word parts (suffixes) at the end of the word.
3. In the base word, look for familiar spelling patterns. Think about the six syllable-spelling patterns you have learned.
4. Sound out and blend together the word parts.
5. Say the word parts fast. Adjust your pronunciation as needed. Ask yourself: "Is it a real word?" "Does it make sense in the sentence?"

The Hidden Power of Read-Alouds

What considerations do you make when you choose a read-aloud?

SEE, THINK, WONDER

Take a look at: The Bloom of the Corpse flower
by Simphiwe Ndzube

SEE: List only what you see.

THINK: List what you think about what you see.

WONDER: What questions do you have about it?

Choosing Read-Alouds

SELECT BOOKS THAT STUDENTS WILL LOVE

- Select texts that are funny, moving, exciting, thought-provoking, and interesting.
- Select texts appropriate to the age and interests of your students.
- Select texts that are of high quality (award winners, excellent authors, high-quality illustrations).
- Repeat some texts that have been loved by students.
- Select texts that you love and tell students about them.

Choosing Read-Alouds

SELECT BOOKS WITH LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES

- Plan selections so that you present a variety of cultures; books give students a chance to see themselves represented and to see things from different perspectives.
- Choose texts that help students understand how people have responded to life's challenges.
- Consider books on the significant issues in the age group—peer pressure, friendship, families, honesty, racism, competition.

Choosing Read-Alouds

SELECT BOOKS WITH LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES CONT'D

- Especially for younger readers, select texts that help them enjoy language—rhythm, rhyme, repetition.
- Select different versions of the same story to help students make comparisons.
- Choose texts that will expand your students' knowledge of others' lives and empathy.
- Choose texts that will help students reflect on their own lives.
- Evaluate the texts to be sure the ideas and concepts can be understood by your students.

Choosing Read-Alouds

SELECT BOOKS OF DIFFERENT GENRES AND TYPES

- Mix and connect fiction and nonfiction.
- Select fiction and nonfiction texts on the same general topics.
- Vary genres and forms so that students listen to many different kinds of texts—articles, poems, fiction, informational texts.
- Select informational texts, even if they are long; you can read some interesting parts aloud and leave the books for students to peruse on their own.

Choosing Read-Alouds

SELECT BOOKS WITH VARIOUS TEXT CHARACTERISTICS

- Consider "text sets" that are connected in various ways beyond genre—theme, structure, time period, issues, series, author, and illustrator.
- Select several texts that help listeners learn from an author's style or craft.
- Select texts that offer artistic appreciation.
- Select texts that build on one another in various ways (sequels, themes, authors, illustrators, topics, settings, structure).
- Link selections in ways that will help students learn something about how texts work.

Choosing Read-Alouds

SELECT BOOKS THAT CONNECT TO OTHER LITERACY CONTEXTS

- Select books that provide good foundations for minilessons in reading and writing.
- Consider the curriculum demands; for example, link texts with social studies, science, or the core literature program.
